The Fatah has declared a state of emergency and general mobilization and military training with weapons for operatives and for thousands of youngsters has started.

Following the failure of the Camp David Summit, a state of emergency has been declared in the Fatah Movement, which has started to make preparations for a confrontation on all planes, from the preparing of awareness for a confrontation to military training. Marwan Barghouti is quoted in the Falastinuna newspaper (edition 18 dated July 31, 2000) as saying that the failure of the negotiations opens the gates for the Palestinian People to realize all options. He stated that there was a plenty of time to achieve readiness and declaration of general mobilization in the ranks of the Palestinian People. Barghouti's statement was not an empty one. On the ground, the Political Directorate, in cooperation with the Fatah Movement, has held dozens of summer camps in the summer months of 2000 (for example, 3 camps in Qalqilya, 4 in Nablus, one in Salfit, 15 in Hebron, 4 in Bethlehem, 4 in Ramallah, 3 in Jenin, 4 in Tul Karm and 40 camps were held in the Gaza Strip) for youngsters throughout the territories of the Palestinian Authority during which thousands of youngsters were trained in the use of weapons and attacking Israel soldiers and settlers by throwing stones and throwing makeshift firebombs. This effort was conducted under the heading of mandatory general mobilization for the right hand of the Palestinian Authority in its perseverance with the fundamental positions in facing Israel and the value of the struggle for realizing Palestinian sovereignty in the territories of 1967 and its uncompromising effort to realize the principle of right of return of refugees to the territories of "Palestine".

The Shabiba Celebrates Graduation of Closed Military Courses for Youth

Fatah's Shabiba – Western Gaza District – organized a celebration on the occasion of the graduation of two Palestine Martyrs courses, which were held in coordination with the Military Intelligence Agency, as well as the Abu Ali Iyyad course in coordination with the National Security Forces (Third Battalion), which were attended by approximately 150 teens, male and female. The courses lasted more than a month at a closed military base. The celebration was held at the Majdal School in the neighborhood of Zaitoun.

Speeches were given by First Lieutenant Isma'il Al-Dahdouh, the director of training, and Colonel Al-Bouji. The speeches emphasized the importance of these courses and stressed the high fighting spirit of the young men and women of the Shabiba. Also spoke Sister Mirfat Al-Bitar, the coordinator of the West Gaza District who is responsible for the Future Shabiba program. She emphasized the Shabiba's standing behind the Palestinian leadership and behind the Commander, the Symbol, in their political struggle and in their effort to announce a Palestinian state on the fixed date. She added that the Israeli smugness and intransigence in the peace process is indicative of bad intentions on behalf of the Israeli government and that its military preparations in the areas of the [West] Bank and the Gaza [Strip] indicate the dangerous path that the Israeli government is taking. Bitar pointed at the preparations that the Shabiba is making in the process of training teens. She said that this is not aimed at destroying the peace process, and depicted the teens as time bombs that will explode in the face of the occupation troops, if Israel tries to attack the Palestinian areas or to act to re-institute the occupation in the areas of the [Palestinian] National Authority. Many national figures attended the celebration, as well as hundreds of family members of the graduates and residents of the Zaitoun neighborhood.

Falastinuna edition No. 19 of September 17, 2000 contains an article that lists three military courses that were held in Gaza for Fatah Youth operatives (the "Shabiba"). About a hundred and fifty operatives participated in the "Al Aqsa Martyrs" and "Abu Ali Iad" courses that were held in cooperation with the National Security and Military Intelligence apparatuses, and they were held in a closed base for more than a month.

Falastinuna edition No. 19 dated September 17, 2000 stated that the ranks of the Fatah had declared a high alert in preparation for the declaration of a Palestinian state. The head of the "Shabiba" organization, Abdel Hakim Awad, stated that the Fatah Youth were ready to defend Palestinian land regardless of the number of casualties, mentioning the "defeats" that the Israeli Army had sustained (implied by the Fatah) during the first Intifada period and the Tunnel Intifada (September 1996).

After the Collapse of Camp David
Announcement of Extreme Readiness In Preparation for the Proclamation of an Independent State

'Abd Al-Hakim 'Awad, the president of the Fatah Shabiba movement, re-emphasized the extreme readiness state of Fatah's Shabiba to defend the Palestinian soil, whatever the challenges. He mentioned the perpetual defeats that the Israeli army suffered during the glorious Intifada. Awad pointed out that the Shabiba will challenge any attempt by the army [Translator's note: Arabic text ends here]
